JOHN HARBAUGH

HEAD COACH

COLLEGE: MIAMI (OH)
BORN: 9/23/62, PERRYSBURG, OH
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 25/15

Super Bowl-winning head coach John Harbaugh is in his 15th season at the Ravens' helm. The 2019 NFL Coach of the Year has led Baltimore to a playoff berth in nine (2008-12, 2014 & 2018-20) of his 14 previous seasons, and in 2012, captured the franchise's second World Championship.

Though he never wants it to be about him, it's impossible to ignore Harbaugh's significant success. Here's a look at the NFL's third-longest-tenured head coach (Bill Belichick – 23 seasons & Mike Tomlin – 16 seasons) entering the 2022 campaign:

- Since Harbaugh's 2008 Baltimore arrival, the Ravens have posted the NFL's fifth-most total victories (148, including playoffs). He has also led the Ravens to 137 regular season wins since 2008, ranking as the NFL's fifth most.
- Under Harbaugh, Baltimore is one of six teams (NE, GB, KC, Pit. & Sea.) to earn a playoff berth in nine of the past 14 seasons.
- The Ravens' 11 playoff wins since 2008 tie (GB) for the NFL's second most (New England, 16). Of those Baltimore victories, an NFL-best eight have come on the road.
- Harbaugh's 11 playoff victories tie (Pete Carroll, Mike Holmgren & Bill Parcells) for the fifth most by a head coach in the first 14 seasons of an NFL coaching career (Joe Gibbs – 17, Bill Belichick – 15, Chuck Noll – 14 & Bill Cowher – 12).
- Harbaugh owns the most road playoff wins (eight) by a head coach in NFL history. Tom Landry (Dal.) and Tom Coughlin (Jax./NYG) are second with seven each.
- Harbaugh is one of 14 coaches to earn at least nine playoff berths in his first 14 seasons (Tony Dungy, Bud Grant & Marty Schottenheimer – 11; Pete Carroll, Bill Cowher, Mike Holmgren & Mike McCarthy – 10; Harbaugh, Joe Gibbs, Chuck Knox, Chuck Noll, Sean Payton, Andy Reid & Mike Tomlin – nine).
- The 2012 Ravens won Super Bowl XLVII, 34-31, over the San Francisco 49ers in one of the most dramatic games in NFL history. Baltimore jumped to a 28-6 lead, but needed a critical goal-line stand late in the fourth quarter to help seal the victory. The Ravens overcame a furious second-half comeback and a 34-minute power outage at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans to clinch the franchise's second World Championship.
- Under Harbaugh's guidance, the Ravens have appeared in three AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012) and have won at least one playoff game in seven of their nine postseasons with him as head coach.
- Harbaugh is the only head coach in NFL history (since 1970 merger) to win a playoff game in each of his first four and five seasons. He is also the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in six of the first seven seasons of a coaching career
- John and his younger brother, Jim (2011, 2012 and 2013), the former 49ers' head coach, are the only NFL head coaches to reach three conference championships in the first five seasons of a coaching career.
- With Harbaugh, the Ravens have posted an 82-31 mark at M&T Bank Stadium over the past 14 seasons, ranking as the NFL's third-best winning percentage (.726) during that span (2008-21).
- In 2019, the Ravens recorded a franchise-best 14-2 record. Baltimore won a team-record 12-straight games to close out the regular season, also earning the franchise's first-ever No. 1 playoff seed.
- Coach Harbaugh has led the Ravens to four AFC North Division titles (2011-12, 2018-19).

2021 RECAP

After starting the season with an AFC-best 8-3 record, the Ravens dropped their last six games – five of which came by a combined 8 points…With its final 8-9 record, Baltimore missed the playoffs for the first time in four seasons and for just the fifth time during Harbaugh's 14-year tenure…Ravaged by injuries throughout the year – including season-ending injuries to standouts RB J.K. Dobbins, RB Gus Edwards, CB Marcus Peters and DE Derek Wolfe prior to Week 1 – projected 2021 starters missed a combined 114 games due to injury/illness (this included QB Lamar Jackson, who missed five games).

Baltimore's offense ranked No. 6 in total yards (378.8 ypg) and registered the league's No. 3 rushing attack (145.8 ypg)…All-Pro TE Mark Andrews was sensational, producing single-season franchise records for receptions (107) and receiving yards (1,361)…Andrews' 1,361 receiving yards also rank third most by a TE in league history and were sixth overall in the NFL.

Baltimore produced the NFL's No. 1 run defense (84.5 ypg) and ranked No. 3 on third down (34.8%)…On special teams, K Justin Tucker led the league in FG% (94.6) and connected on an NFL-record 66-yard game-winner at Detroit…RS Devin Duvernay finished No. 1 in the NFL in PR average (13.8) and No. 7 in KOR average (24.1), helping Baltimore's special teams rank No. 1 in Football Outsiders' DVOA ratings.

Five Ravens players were voted to the Pro Bowl: TE Mark Andrews (second), RS Devin Duvernay (first), QB Lamar Jackson (second), FB Patrick Ricard (third) and K Justin Tucker (fifth)…Andrews, Duvernay and Tucker also each earned first-team All-Pro honors.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

Devoted to his family and Christian faith, John is most active in helping the Baltimore area be better for families. He earned the 2011 "Power of Excellence Award" from the (Ben) Carson Scholars for "demonstrating excellence in life and being a role model." He served on the board of the Port Discovery Children's Museum and is a contributor to numerous Baltimore-area events and charities. Also a willing volunteer, his wife, Ingrid, contributes to the Helping Up Mission and Sarah's House, and she is on the Board of Trustees at The Maryland Zoo in Baltimore. In 2020, the couple made significant donations to help fund the distribution of meals to healthcare workers serving on the frontlines of the COVID-19 pandemic. John and Ingrid are also involved with Compassion International, which is an organization that aims to positively impact the long-term development of children living in poverty globally.

Harbaugh is a strong advocate of the U.S. Military. The NFL awarded him its 2013 Salute to Service Award, acknowledging exceptional efforts by those in the league who honor and support military members. (He was also a finalist for the award in 2011.) In 2012, the late Army Chief of Staff General Raymond Odierno presented him with the Outstanding Civilian Service Award. Harbaugh has also visited numerous military installations, including bases in the Persian Gulf as part of the inaugural NFL USO Coaches Tour (2009), the Naval Special Warfare Center in Coronado, Calif., (2011), Andrews Air Force Base – just two days after the capture of Osama Bin Laden (2011) – and undisclosed locations in Turkey and Afghanistan.

In 2008, Harbaugh helped institute Military Appreciation Day – an annual event that takes place during Ravens training camp. Since its establishment, over 10,000 service members have enjoyed preferred seating and opportunities to meet Ravens players and coaches. Once the season begins, Harbaugh then invites wounded warriors to be his guests at every Ravens home game. In 2017, he donated New Era hats to soldiers in Afghanistan. The hats represented all four of the major professional sports leagues and several from the NCAA as well. Additionally, he has purchased school supplies for children whose parents are serving in the military and has sent care packages to troops overseas.

PERSONAL

A history buff, Harbaugh has taken the Ravens to Gettysburg, Pa., during offseason team activities to learn about the Civil War. Near the end of the 2017 training camp, he surprised the entire team by cancelling practice on two occasions, loading everyone on buses to visit The Pentagon and Arlington National Cemetery and another day visit to the National Museum of African American History and Culture in Washington, D.C. The trips were opportunities for players, coaches and staff to receive behind-the-scenes tours of the historic locations and show appreciation for what each represents.

John attended Pioneer (Ann Arbor, MI) HS, where he and his brother, Jim, were inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 2016. John and Ingrid have a daughter, Alison, who is a rising junior lacrosse player at the University of Notre Dame.

CHRIS HORTON

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: UCLA
BORN: 12/29/84, LOS ANGELES, CA
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 11/8 (3 PLAYING / 8 COACHING)

CHRIS HORTON is in his fourth season leading the Ravens' exceptional special teams group. Since joining the team in 2014, Horton has helped Baltimore's units perform at the highest level over the last several seasons. Prior to coaching, Horton played safety for four NFL seasons with Washington (2008-11) after being selected in the seventh round of the 2008 NFL Draft.

- In 2021, Baltimore's special teams ranked No. 1 in Football Outsiders' DVOA ratings. K Justin Tucker, the most accurate kicker in NFL history (91.1%), connected on 35-of-37 FGAs, including an NFL-record 66-yard game winner at Detroit, en route to earning his fifth Pro Bowl nod.
- RS Devin Duvernay earned first-team All-Pro and his first Pro Bowl nod in 2021 after finishing No. 1 in the NFL in PR average (13.8) and No. 7 in KOR average (24.1)...He led all NFL players with 6 PRs gaining 20-plus yards.
- Tucker has made at least 30 FGs in seven seasons, marking the most by any kicker in NFL history. With 130 points scored in 2021, Tucker became the first kicker in NFL history to score 130-plus points in six straight seasons (2016-21).
- In 2020, Tucker connected on 26-of-29 FGAs, en route to earning his fourth Pro Bowl. Tucker scored more than 130 points in his fifth-straight season (2016-20), tying an NFL record for consecutive seasons with 130-plus points (Stephen Gostkowski, 2011-15, & David Akers, 2008-12).
- In the annual special teams report from senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin, Baltimore has ranked in the NFL's Top 6 for nine of the past 10 seasons (2012-21), including first in 2015 and 2021. (Gosselin's report is considered by many as a strong special teams measuring stick.)
- In Football Outsiders' annual special teams DVOA ratings, a metric for analyzing each play against NFL averages based on several variables, Baltimore finished in the Top 10 each year since 2012, with the No. 1 ranking in 2017 and 2021, a Top 6 finish in seven consecutive seasons (2012-18) and Top 3 finish in four consecutive seasons (2012-15).

2021 RECAP: Baltimore's special teams ranked No. 1 in Football Outsiders' DVOA ratings...K Justin Tucker earned his fifth Pro Bowl, led the league in FG% (94.6) and connected on an NFL-record 66-yard game-winner at Detroit...He was a perfect 6-for-6 on FGAs of 50+ yards...RS Devin Duvernay earned first-team All-Pro and his first Pro Bowl nod after finishing No. 1 in the NFL in PR average (13.8) and No. 7 in KOR average (24.1)...He led all NFL players with 6 PRs gaining 20-plus yards.

MIKE MACDONALD

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: GEORGIA
BORN: 6/26/87, BOSTON, MA
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 8/8

MIKE MACDONALD re-joined the Ravens after spending the 2021 season as Michigan's defensive coordinator. Prior to his time with the Wolverines, Macdonald spent seven seasons (2014-20) in Baltimore, serving most recently as the linebackers coach from 2018-20. During his time with the Ravens, he also coached defensive backs (2017), was a defensive assistant (2015-16) and worked his first year (2014) as a defensive coaching intern.

- In 2021, his lone season coordinating Michigan's defense, Macdonald helped guide the Wolverines to their first Big Ten title since 2004 and an appearance in the College Football Playoff semifinals.
- While in Ann Arbor (2021), his unit produced the nation's No. 8 scoring defense (17.4 ppg), while finishing 20th in yards per game allowed (330.9) and 11th in red zone TD efficiency (45.7%)...Macdonald also played an instrumental role in the standout performance of DE Aidan Hutchinson, who earned first-team All-America honors and was a Heisman Trophy finalist, after producing a career-high and single-season school record 14 sacks.
- From 2018-20, Macdonald led a Ravens linebackers corps that helped Baltimore produce the NFL's No. 1 overall defense (307.8 ypg) during that span, while also permitting the league's fewest points per game (18.2)...Veteran linebackers Matthew Judon (2019-20) and C.J. Mosley (2018) also each earned Pro Bowl nods under Macdonald's tutelage.
- In 2020, Baltimore allowed the NFL's second-fewest points (18.9) and seventh-fewest yards (329.8) per game...The Ravens also owned the No. 2 third-down defense (34.0%) and produced a league-high 25 FFs.
- The Ravens upheld their strong defensive tradition in 2019, allowing the NFL's third-fewest points (17.6) and fourth-fewest net yards (300.6) per game... Baltimore also ranked fifth against the run (93.4 ypg) and No. 6 vs. the pass (207.2 ypg), en route to a franchise-best 14-2 record and second-straight AFC North Division title.
- In 2018 the Ravens produced the NFL's No. 1 defense, allowing 292.9 yards per game, while also permitting the league's second-fewest points per game (17.9).
- Alongside secondary coach Chris Hewitt in 2017, Macdonald helped guide a defensive backfield that contributed to the NFL's most INTs (22) and forced turnovers (34). Baltimore also finished second in the league in both defensive passer rating (72.4) and defensive TDs (5), and its 3 shutout performances were the most in a season since the 2003 Patriots.
- In 2016, Macdonald worked with then-secondary coach and current Bills defensive coordinator/assistant head coach Leslie Frazier, helping guide a unit that finished seventh overall (322.1 ypg) and produced a league-leading (tied, KC & SD) 18 INTs.

2021 RECAP: In his lone season coordinating the University of Michigan's defense, Macdonald helped guide the Wolverines to their first Big Ten title since 2004 and an appearance in the College Football Playoff semifinals...While in Ann Arbor, Macdonald's unit was the nation's No. 8 scoring defense (17.4 ppg), while finishing 20th in yards per game allowed (330.9) and 11th in red zone touchdown efficiency (45.7%)...Macdonald also played an instrumental role in the standout performance of DE Aidan Hutchinson, who earned first-team All-America honors and was a Heisman Trophy finalist after producing a career-high and single-season school record 14 sacks.

GREG ROMAN

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: JOHN CARROLL
BORN: 8/19/72, ATLANTIC CITY, NJ
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 25/8

GREG ROMAN, a 25-year NFL coaching veteran, is in his fourth season as Baltimore's offensive coordinator. Roman, who's in his second stint with the Ravens, has experience coaching in the NFL for five teams, including as offensive coordinator for three of them. Under Roman's leadership, Baltimore's rushing attack has been superb over the last few seasons.

- In 2021, Baltimore's offense finished No. 6 in the NFL (378.8 ypg) with a run game that ranked third (145.8 ypg) and a passing attack that made the NFL's biggest improvement from 2020 (+61.8 ypg).
- All-Pro TE Mark Andrews was sensational in 2021, producing single-season franchise records in receptions (107) and receiving yards (1,361)...His 1,361 receiving yards also rank third most by a TE in league history and were sixth overall in the NFL in 2021...WR Marquise Brown (1,008) joined TE Mark Andrews (1,361) to form the second duo in Ravens history (Derrick Alexander & Michael Jackson, 1996) to each produce 1,000 receiving yards in a season.
- From Week 11, 2018-Week 4, 2021, Baltimore's rushing attack topped 100 rushing yards in 43 consecutive games, tying for the longest streak of its kind in NFL history (Pittsburgh – 1974-77).
- In 2020, the Ravens' run game finished No. 1 in the NFL (191.9 ypg) for the second-straight season and produced the third-most yards (3,071) in a 16-game NFL season...Baltimore owns two of the Top 3 marks, setting the single-season NFL rushing record in 2019 with 3,296.
- In 2020, Baltimore also registered an NFL-best six games with at least 200 rushing yards, including a franchise record 404-yard output in Week 17's victory at Cincinnati...The Ravens' 24 rushing TDs in 2020 set a new single-season franchise record.
- In his first season at the helm (2019), Roman led Baltimore's attack to record-setting heights, ultimately earning him NFL Assistant Coach of the Year honors... The "revolutionary" Ravens posted the best offensive season in team history, helping Baltimore to a franchise-best 14-2 record.
- In 2019, the Ravens ranked No. 1 in points (33.2) and rushing yards (206.0) per game, while they finished No. 2 in total yards (407.6)...Ravens set a new NFL single-season rushing record (3,296), besting the 1978 Patriots (3,165)... Baltimore became the first team ever to average 200 passing and 200 rushing yards per game in a season...The 2019 Ravens also set team records for TDs (64), points (531), net yards (6,521), rushing yards (3,296), first downs (386, eclipsed in 2021) and fewest turnovers (15).

2021 RECAP: Baltimore's offense finished No. 6 in the NFL (378.8 ypg), with a run game that ranked third (145.8 ypg) and a passing attack that made the NFL's biggest improvement from 2020 (+61.8 ypg)...All-Pro TE Mark Andrews was sensational, producing single-season franchise records for receptions (107) and receiving yards (1,361)...His 1,361 receiving yards also rank third most by a TE in league history and were sixth overall in the NFL in 2021...WR Marquise Brown (1,008) joined TE Mark Andrews (1,361) to form the second duo in Ravens history (Derrick Alexander & Michael Jackson, 1996) to each produce 1,000 receiving yards in a season...QB Lamar Jackson recorded at least 200 passing yards and 50 rushing yards in seven games, tying Randall Cunningham (1990) and his own 2019 MVP campaign for the most such performances in NFL single-season history...From Week 11, 2018-Week 4, 2021, Baltimore's rushing attack topped 100 rushing yards in 43 consecutive games, tying for the longest streak of its kind in NFL history (Pittsburgh – 1974-77)

COACHING STAFF

RANDY BROWN
SPECIAL TEAMS COACH

Randy Brown enters his 15th season coaching the Ravens' specialists. Originally joining Baltimore in 2008 as a kicking consultant, Brown has worked with John Harbaugh since he began coaching with the Eagles in 2004. Under Brown's guidance, K Justin Tucker ranks as the most accurate kicker in NFL history (326-of-358, 91.1%), while P Sam Koch is the Ravens' record holder for punts inside the 20 (453) and gross (45.3) and net (39.7) punting averages.

JOE D'ALESSANDRIS
OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

Joe D'Alessandris, a 44-year coaching veteran, enters his sixth season as Baltimore's offensive line coach. Guiding Baltimore's offensive line since 2017, D'Alessandris' unit has helped the Ravens' offense rank in the Top 10 in several categories over that span, including points per game (fifth – 26.8), yards per game (seventh – 366.1), rushing yards per game (first – 162.3) and first downs per game (fifth – 22).

MIKE DEVLIN
ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

Mike Devlin, a 20-year NFL coaching veteran, enters his first season as Baltimore's assistant offensive line coach. He most recently spent six seasons (2015-20) coaching the Houston Texans' offensive line, and prior to that, spent nine seasons (2006-14) as an assistant with the New York Jets, working with the offensive line and tight ends. Following a seven-year playing career (1993-99), Devlin entered the NFL coaching ranks with the Arizona Cardinals in 2000.

KERRY DIXON
ASSISTANT QUARTERBACKS COACH

Kerry Dixon joined Baltimore's staff in 2022 after 15 seasons as a collegiate assistant, most recently serving as wide receivers coach at Georgia Tech (2019-21), where he was instrumental in the Yellow Jackets' transition from an option-based offensive scheme to a pro-style spread attack. Dixon also coached RBs at Toledo (2018) and WRs at Florida (2015-17) and held several other collegiate posts prior to his Baltimore arrival.

GEORGE GODSEY
TIGHT ENDS COACH

George Godsey, who is in his 12th NFL season, joined the Ravens in 2022 after most recently serving as the Miami Dolphins' tight ends coach (2019-21), while adding the co-offensive coordinator title in 2021. Godsey also served as the Houston Texans' offensive coordinator from 2015-16. During his time in the NFL, he has held assistant positions with the Detroit Lions (2017-18), Houston Texans (2014) and New England Patriots (2011-13).

CHRIS HEWITT
PASS GAME COORDINATOR/SECONDARY

Chris Hewitt enters his eighth season leading the Ravens' secondary. With Hewitt at the helm of the secondary (since 2015), Baltimore's defense has ranked at or near the top of the NFL in several categories, including points allowed per game (second – 20.3), yards allowed per game (first – 324.8) and third-down conversion percentage (second – 36.0). The secondary has also contributed to the NFL's fifth-lowest opponent completion percentage (61.6) and sixth-lowest opponent passer rating (86.4) under Hewitt.

ROB LEONARD
OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

Rob Leonard enters his 10th NFL season, joining the Ravens in 2022 after spending the past three years (2019-21) with the Miami Dolphins. While with Miami, Leonard held posts as the outside linebackers coach (2021), assistant defensive line coach (2020) and linebackers coach (2019). He spent the first six seasons of his NFL coaching career (2013-18) as an assistant with the New York Giants.

D'ANTON LYNN
SAFETIES COACH

D'Anton Lynn, a nine-year coaching veteran, enters his second season with the Ravens. After coaching defensive backs in 2021, he'll serve as the team's safeties coach in 2022, guiding a group that features highly touted free agent acquisition, Marcus Williams, Baltimore's 14th-overall draft selection, Kyle Hamilton, and veteran Chuck Clark. In 2021, Lynn's first season in Baltimore, he helped coach a defensive backfield that contributed to the Ravens' No. 3-ranked third-down defense (34.8%).

TEE MARTIN
WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

Tee Martin enters his second season guiding the Ravens' receiving corps. In 2021, Martin's first year in Baltimore, Ravens wide receivers posted 216 receptions, marking a franchise single-season record. He also helped guide WR Rashod Bateman to a 42.9 receiving ypg average last season, which ranks second on the Ravens' all-time rookie chart, trailing only Torrey Smith's 52.6 ypg average in 2011.

ZACH ORR
INSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

Zach Orr re-joined the Ravens as their inside linebackers coach after spending one season (2021) as the Jacksonville Jaguars' outside linebackers coach. In 2021, Orr coached for a Jaguars' unit that finished in the AFC's Top 10 in total defense (353.1 ypg) and pass defense (227.9 ypg), while also producing the fourth-most QB hits (81) in franchise history. Prior to his stint with Jacksonville, Orr spent four seasons (2017-20) serving in various roles on Baltimore's coaching staff.

RYAN OSBORN
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Ryan Osborn joins Baltimore's staff after most recently serving as a defensive analyst for Mike Macdonald's 2021 Michigan unit, which produced the nation's eighth-ranked scoring defense (17.4 ppg), while finishing 20th in yards per game allowed (330.9) and 11th in red zone TD efficiency (45.7%). Working with the OLBs and the defensive line at Michigan, Osborn helped guide DE Aidan Hutchinson and current Ravens LB David Ojabo to career years in 2021.

JAY PETERSON
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Jay Peterson enters his second season assisting Baltimore's defensive unit. Following 30 years of coaching at the collegiate level, Peterson joined the Ravens as assistant linebackers/quality control coach last season. In that position, he helped Baltimore's linebackers record 39 TFL, marking the sixth-most TFL among NFL linebacker units.

MATT ROBINSON
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Matt Robinson enters his second season in Baltimore and first as defensive assistant. He originally joined the Ravens in 2021 as a coaching fellow, working with the defensive staff, and specifically, assisting with the outside linebackers. In his new role, Robinson works primarily with the defensive backs.

STEVE SAUNDERS
HEAD STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Steve Saunders is in his seventh year with the Ravens. In his current role as head strength & conditioning coach, he oversees the strength and conditioning program, guiding all sports science, speed, strength training and recovery initiatives, working closely with the team's athletic training department. His focus includes injury prevention, recovery and energy system training in an effort to maximize performance.

DANIEL STERN
OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Daniel Stern enters his seventh season in Baltimore and first as offensive assistant. Stern works closely with the WRs and assists with drawing the playbook, opponent analysis and self-scouting. He also is responsible for scripting situational periods of practice and advising John Harbaugh on clock management, game management and coaches' challenges. Since 2019, Stern has been responsible for studying game management, situational football and the NFL playing rules/officiating.

TRAVIS SWITZER
OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Travis Switzer enters his sixth season in Baltimore and first as offensive assistant. In his new role, Switzer works primarily with the tight ends. From 2019-20, Switzer served as an offensive coaching analyst in Baltimore, where he helped guide the wide receivers group, before being promoted to offensive quality control coach in 2021.

JAMES URBAN QUARTERBACKS COACH

James Urban is in his fifth season with the Ravens as quarterbacks coach. For the past four years, he has mentored QB Lamar Jackson, helping the signal-caller earn unanimous NFL MVP honors in 2019, becoming the youngest player to earn the award (22 years, 358 days) in only his second NFL season. Baltimore is 37-12 in the regular season with Jackson as its starter, and in 2021, Jackson became the first QB in league history to reach 35 career victories before the age of 25.

CRAIG VER STEEG
RUNNING BACKS COACH

Craig Ver Steeg is in his 15th year working with Baltimore's offense and his second as the team's running backs coach. Despite losing his top two backs (J.K. Dobbins and Gus Edwards) to injury before the 2021 season even began, Baltimore boasted the NFL's third-best rushing attack (145.8 ypg) and tallied the NFL's second-most first-down runs (159). For the second-straight year, the Ravens were the NFL's only team with three 500-yard rushers (Devonta Freeman, Latavius Murray and Lamar Jackson).

ANTHONY WEAVER
ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/DEFENSIVE LINE

Anthony Weaver, who is in his 13th season of coaching, reunited in 2021 with the Ravens, the team that drafted him in 2002. Following a seven-year NFL playing career along the defensive line, Weaver began coaching collegiately in 2010. In 2022, after one season as the Ravens' run game coordinator/defensive line coach in which he guided a unit that played an integral role in the Ravens' first-ranked rush defense (84.5 ypg) and third-best third-down defense (34.8%), Weaver was promoted to assistant head coach/defensive line.

T.J. WEIST
SPECIAL TEAMS COACH

T.J. Weist, who joined the Ravens in 2018 as a coaching analyst, is in his fourth year working with the Ravens' exceptional special teams units. In 2021, Weist helped guide RS Devin Duvernay to the NFL's No. 1 PR average (13.8) and No. 7 KOR average (24.1), helping Baltimore's special teams claim the top spot in Football Outsiders' DVOA ratings, a popular metric for analyzing and comparing each play to the league average based on a number of variables.

KEITH WILLIAMS
PASS GAME SPECIALIST

Keith Williams joined the Ravens in 2021 as the Ravens' pass game specialist. He works closely with wide receivers coach Tee Martin in mentoring the team's wide receivers. Williams has extensive experience coaching wide receivers, a group he's guided for 18 years at the collegiate level, including with Nebraska from 2015-17. More recently, he worked as a personal wide receivers coach for a number of top NFL wideouts, including Pro Bowlers Tyreek Hill and Davante Adams.

RETOOLED AND READY FOR 2022

AFTER RETOOLING THEIR ROSTER AND GETTING HEALTHIER THIS OFFSEASON, THE RAVENS BELIEVE THE 2022 SEASON HAS THE POTENTIAL TO BE SPECIAL.

BY CLIFTON BROWN | BALTIMORERAVENS.COM | JUNE 22, 2022

An unprecedented number of injuries ruined 2021 for the Ravens, who finished 8-9 and missed the playoffs for the first time since 2018. However, after an 11-player draft and key acquisitions during free agency, the Ravens are deeper and extremely determined.

> "I personally feel like our fans will get the very best that our players have to offer this year."
>
> – General Manager Eric DeCosta said at the NFL Scouting Combine

"We are hungry, we're disappointed that we didn't make the playoffs, probably a little embarrassed that we didn't make the playoffs based on what we feel we should have done. And I think our players are going to come back this year with a vengeance," added DeCosta.

A stronger Lamar Jackson sparkled at mandatory minicamp in June, throwing the ball with more zip after adding 12-15 pounds of muscle mass. Jackson also said his absence from voluntary OTAs was not related to his contract negotiations with the Ravens, a subject that has dominated offseason headlines.

There is always buzz around Jackson, and speculation about his long-term future will continue until he signs his next contract. However, Jackson looked determined, not distracted, at minicamp. After missing the final five games of 2021 with an ankle injury, Jackson is healthy and highly motivated to remain one of the NFL's most dynamic weapons.

"To see it look that good, to see the shape he was in, how well he threw the ball, that was all … for a coach, that's exciting," Head Coach John Harbaugh said.

Jackson and Harbaugh are two reasons to believe the Ravens will have a bounce back year. Harbaugh will enter his 15th season as head coach, and the winningest coach in franchise history has guided Baltimore to the postseason eight times, including a Super Bowl title following the 2012 season.

Jackson remains the main catalyst on offense, and the line protecting him should improve after the Ravens signed right tackle Morgan Moses in free agency and drafted center Tyler Linderbaum with the 25th overall pick. Jackson was sacked a career-high 38 times in 2021 despite playing just 12 games. Moses has started 113 NFL games, and Linderbaum was the top center prospect in the draft.

Baltimore upgraded its tight end group behind All-Pro Mark Andrews by drafting two tight ends in the fourth round, Charlie Kolar and Isaiah Likely. Meanwhile, veteran tight end Nick Boyle looked like a new man at minicamp, moving with much more freedom during his continued recovery from a major knee injury. Offensive Coordinator Greg Roman will have more leeway to deploy the multiple tight end formations that are a major part of his scheme.

The wide receiver room faces a challenge after the trade that sent leading receiver Marquise "Hollywood" Brown to the Arizona Cardinals. However, the Ravens have four young wide receivers – Rashod Bateman, Devin Duvernay, James Proche II and Tylan Wallace – who are eager to seize their opportunity and silence skeptics. Bateman says concern about the Ravens' young wide receiver corps is misplaced angst.

"There's like rookie receivers everywhere going crazy, and everybody is talking about us," Bateman said. "But we embrace it. It's a challenge."

The biggest question offensively may be the timetable for the return of three players coming off season-ending injuries – All-Pro left tackle Ronnie Stanley (ankle) and running backs J.K. Dobbins (knee) and Gus Edwards (knee). None of them participated in mandatory minicamp, but Harbaugh is encouraged about their progress, with the goal to have them back by Week 1 of the regular season.

Harbaugh seemed particularly encouraged about Stanley, and his return could make the Ravens' offensive line one of the league's best again, as it was in 2019 when they went 14-2.

"Ronnie's ankle is looking great," Harbaugh said at the conclusion of minicamp. "I expect him to play like Ronnie Stanley. He's really motivated to do it. He's chomping at the bit to get back. If he plays like Ronnie Stanley, and even better, then the significance is almost immeasurable. And that's what we're hoping for."

Defensively, the Ravens have a new coordinator in Mike Macdonald who has quickly built a reputation for using personnel creatively. The Ravens' secondary has undergone a major makeover with the addition of safety Marcus Williams and 14th-overall pick Kyle Hamilton. Both are superb athletes who can line up near the box or in space, giving the Ravens the ability to show multiple defensive looks.

Baltimore was last in the NFL in pass defense last year, but there could be dramatic improvement in that department. Pro Bowl cornerback Marcus Peters is expected back from a season-ending knee injury, teaming with Marlon Humphrey to give Baltimore an elite tandem of starting corners. Williams and Hamilton join veteran Chuck Clark to give the Ravens three starting-caliber safeties, and the Ravens have strengthened their cornerback depth by signing veteran Kyle Fuller and drafting Jalyn Armour-Davis and Damarion "Pepe" Williams.

The AFC is loaded with quality teams, and the AFC North could be the deepest division in the NFL. But the Ravens like what they have and don't expect the 2022 playoffs to begin without them.

"I want to be a champion," defensive end Calais Campbell said. "I think that's a big reason why I feel like Baltimore brought me back. I think we have unfinished business. This team is on the cusp of something great, and I just can't wait to go back to battle with my guys."

RECOVERED, REBUILT, REENERGIZED AND RESTOCKED

THE RAVENS' OFFENSE IS POISED TO REMIND THE NFL OF JUST HOW DANGEROUS IT CAN BE.

BY DAN HOROWITZ

In the NFL, subpar quarterback play can derail a season rather quickly, while extraordinary quarterback play can elevate a team to championship contention. With Lamar Jackson under center in Baltimore – the NFL's fourth-winningest (37-12) quarterback since becoming a full-time starter in Week 11 of 2018 – the extraordinary has become ordinary, and the Ravens have a shot at competing for the title year in and year out.

To work his magic, Jackson needs time and space – two essentials provided by an offensive line. Still, with Jackson's mobility and the complexity of Baltimore's multi-dimensional offense, Ravens O-linemen have a job like no other.

"This is a great locker room. This locker room – it's not like this everywhere. The guys that come in here, they see the atmosphere, and they see how close we are as a whole. It's going to be an exciting team."

– TE Mark Andrews

This offseason, executive vice president and general manager Eric DeCosta made no bones about telling the media shortly after season's end that improving the offensive line would be a point of emphasis for 2022.

"How do we improve, and how can we get better? Certainly, the Draft will be one resource; there will be other ways as well," DeCosta explained. "Some of that is going to be guys we have on campus getting better with an offseason."

Sure enough, DeCosta and his staff addressed the offensive line in every which way. It started with the free agent signing of T Morgan Moses (left), followed by the Draft-day trade that landed a first-round pick used on C Tyler Linderbaum (above), then the fourth-round selection of T Daniel Faalele, and finally, the positivity surrounding T Ronnie Stanley's health.

In acquiring the first-round pick used on Linderbaum, the Ravens dealt Marquise Brown to Arizona. Though one could argue that, on paper, Baltimore filled a hole at one area (center) and created a hole at another (wide receiver), inside "The Castle," there's palpable optimism that the young receivers are eager to make a name for themselves.

"We all like to cling to the known, the names and whatever it might be," Coach Harbaugh vocalized, regarding his young wideouts. "But I can tell you this: They're working really hard, they understand the situation, and I think they're making the most of it."

After a strong rookie season and flashes of No. 1 potential, Rashod Bateman appears to be the wide receiver room's leading candidate to break out. And, as for the challenges associated with being asked to step up, Bateman is ready for them all.

"Baltimore drafted me for a reason," he told teammate Marlon Humphrey on the Studio 44 podcast. "They drafted me to be in this position. For me, all I've been waiting on is the opportunity. I know what I'm capable of, and I feel like the Ravens organization knows what I'm capable of. I'm just excited to go out and finally show it to the fans and to my teammates."

While most teams hope to address their weaknesses in the offseason, often leaving their strengths alone with the expectation that they'll perform similarly to the year before, Baltimore's front office has regularly applied the neglected strategy of strengthening its strength. You can identify it in several instances, but perhaps there's no better example than the selections of tight ends Charlie Kolar (left, No. 88) and Isaiah Likely in the fourth round of this year's Draft. Paired with All-Pro Mark Andrews and a healthier Nick Boyle, Kolar and Likely add talent and versatility to an already talented and versatile room.

"They're definitely chess pieces, and we'll see how it all fits together. It could be pretty interesting. We're learning about them, and then we're starting to visualize what we could possibly do."

– Greg Roman, Offensive Coordinator

While Coach Roman visualizes what his tight ends room could possibly do this year, a year ago, it would have been hard to visualize a team producing the league's third-most rushing yards per game (145.8) without its two lead backs, but that's exactly what the Baltimore Ravens did in 2021. Now, with a hopeful clean bill of health for J.K. Dobbins, who averaged a league-high 6.0 yards per carry and scored a Ravens' rookie-record nine TDs in 2020, and Gus Edwards, one of only two players in league history to start a career with three straight seasons (2018-20) of 700-plus rushing yards and five yards per carry, the Ravens' ground game is primed and ready for another year of historic production.

In 2021, Baltimore's offense endured five games missed from Lamar Jackson, a Week 1 season-ending injury to Ronnie Stanley and full-year absences from J.K. Dobbins (left) and Gus Edwards (right), still managing to generate the NFL's sixth-best offensive attack (378.8 ypg). Now, in 2022, with recovered talent, a rebuilt offensive line, reenergized wide receivers and a restocked tight ends room, the Ravens' offense is poised to remind the NFL of just how dangerous it can be.

"I think our goal right now is to just get better as a whole, as a team, to become closer. This is a great locker room. It's not like this everywhere. The guys that come in here, see the atmosphere, that's what it's all about. So, for us to all be here, hanging out, getting better as a team, having one goal, sitting in team meetings, hearing Coach Harbaugh talk – talking about where we want to be as a team, what it's going to take to be there – that's what it's all about."

– TE Mark Andrews during last June's minicamp

A NEW AGE LIES AHEAD

BALTIMORE DEFENSE SETS SIGHTS ON BIG 2022 SEASON

BY VERNON DENNIS

PERSEVERANCE.

It could be the underlying word to recap the Ravens' 2021 defense and bring it into 2022 with a positive outlook. Last year, the unit was plagued by injuries, but still fought and clawed its way to produce the NFL's top-ranked run defense (84.5 ypg).

Despite 19 Ravens overall landing on Injured Reserve, including a full-season absence from standout Marcus Peters, and missing the playoffs for the first time in four seasons, Baltimore tied an NFL record with six games decided by two-or-fewer points.

Throughout the adversity, the light shined bright on Tyus Bowser (right), who started in every game of the season, producing single-season bests in tackles (56), tackles for loss (eight), sacks (a team-high seven), quarterback hits (15) and forced fumbles (two).

Perhaps without Bowser (Achilles injury sustained in Week 18 last season) for at least the beginning of the 2022 campaign, more will be asked of second-year pro Odafe Oweh. As one of the team's two 2021 first-round selections, Oweh flashed as a rookie, showing signs of a promising career to come after posting five sacks (second on the team) and 15 quarterback hits, while adding a team-high three forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries.

Beyond personnel changes and player development that could impact unit performance, there's a new voice leading Baltimore's defense.

Newly-appointed defensive coordinator Mike Macdonald, 35, who previously spent seven seasons (2014-20) as a defensive assistant with the Ravens, seems to already be making a strong impression with his group, showcasing teaching abilities well beyond his years.

"Mike Macdonald is actually doing a unique job I've kind of never experienced; he's really having everybody understand the whole philosophy of the group of a coverage, as opposed to, 'You've got this call. How do you play this call?'" explained Marlon Humphrey (left). "He's kind of saying, 'Grouping these calls all together, what is the whole idea of this call?' So, I think he's done a really good job of really helping us all be smarter."

Macdonald's one year as defensive coordinator at Michigan (2021) saw great success, leading the Wolverines to a Big Ten Conference Championship and berth in the College Football Playoffs.

"It's a great challenge. It's a humbling challenge. We're just really excited to get it going – just getting the pieces in place, starting to rock and roll and build what we envision to be another great Ravens defense."

– Mike Macdonald, Defensive Coordinator

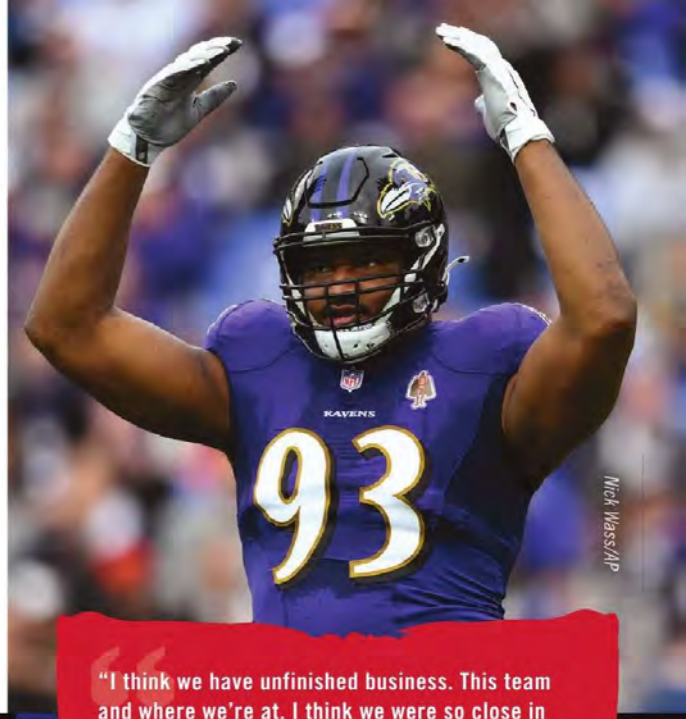
Macdonald will certainly have the talent to help make a seamless transition, with an infusion of new charges that EVP & GM Eric DeCosta reloaded through the draft and free agency. That new talent includes 2022 first-round selection Kyle Hamilton and five-year veteran Marcus Williams, who'll bolster Baltimore's defensive backfield.

"We have so many great pieces, and the way we're trying to teach the system is so conceptual," Macdonald explained. "We're really not asking them to play positions, per se, all the time. Guys are expected to learn what that play call entails."

With the additions of some versatile young talent in the secondary, coupled with the return of two All-Pro cornerbacks in Humphrey and Peters – not to mention a front seven eager to return to form – the 2022 defense is poised to regain its longstanding tradition of excellence.

"There is an amazing tradition of defense here, and it's built on the players that have been here," asserted head coach John Harbaugh. "It's built on the schemes that have been used. It's built on the mindset. It's built on practice. It's built on everything."

A new age lies ahead for Baltimore's defense, and it starts now.



Nick Wass/AP

"I think we have unfinished business. This team and where we're at, I think we were so close in 2021, even though we didn't make the playoffs. But if you really watch this team and see how we fought and how we competed, this team is on the cusp of something great, and I just can't wait to go back to battle with my guys."

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 2022

MARK ANDREWS

- Needs 500 receiving yards and three touchdown grabs to join Rob Gronkowski (2010-14) and Keith Jackson (1988-92) as one of three tight ends in NFL history to begin their respective careers with five straight seasons reaching those marks.
- Needs 534 receiving yards and one touchdown reception to become the sixth tight end in NFL history with 4,000 receiving yards and 30 touchdown receptions through the first five seasons of a career, joining Mike Ditka, Antonio Gates, Jimmy Graham, Rob Gronkowski and Kellen Winslow Sr.
- Needs 13 receiving touchdowns to pass Todd Heap (41) for most in franchise history (42).

LAMAR JACKSON

- Needs one game with 100 rushing yards to eclipse Mike Vick (10) for the most 100-rushing yard outings by a quarterback in NFL history (11).
- Needs 567 rushing yards to crack the Top 5 in career rushing yards by a quarterback in NFL history. His 3,673 rushing yards currently rank seventh all time.
- Needs six wins as a starter before January 7, 2023, to own the most wins (43) by a quarterback aged 25 or younger in NFL history, eclipsing Drew Bledsoe's 42 wins as a starter before his 26th birthday.
- Needs 33 passing yards to reach the 10,000-yard mark and become just the eighth quarterback in NFL history to record at least 10,000 passing yards and 3,500 rushing yards in a career. He'd be the first to ever reach those marks in the first five years of a career.
- Needs 327 rushing yards to produce 4,000 for his career and become just the sixth quarterback in NFL history to reach that mark, joining Randall Cunningham, Cam Newton, Mike Vick, Russell Wilson and Steve Young. Lamar would be the first quarterback in NFL history to reach the 4,000-rushing yard mark in the first five seasons of a career.
- Needs 16 passing touchdowns and four rushing touchdowns to reach 100 through the air and 25 on the ground, becoming just the third quarterback in NFL history to post those figures in the first five years of a career, joining Josh Allen and Cam Newton.
- Needs 600 rushing yards to post his fifth 600-plus rushing yard season and become the first quarterback in NFL history to tally five seasons reaching that mark, doing so in each of the first five seasons of his NFL career.

JUSTIN TUCKER

- Needs 98 points to eclipse Stephen Gostkowski (1,457) for the most points scored by a player in the first 11 years of a career in NFL history (1,458).
- Needs 105 points to surpass Matt Stover (1,464) for most points scored in franchise history (1,465).

CALAIS CAMPBELL

- Needs 6.5 sacks to reach 100 for his career.

A STOUT UNIT

BY DAN HOROWITZ

While every NFL coach, player and front office acknowledges the pursuit of perfection in all three phases of the game, perhaps nobody takes special teams more seriously than the Baltimore Ravens.

And as a result, Baltimore's special teams prowess has become almost as certain in life as taxes and change.

In Football Outsiders' annual special teams DVOA ratings, a metric for analyzing each play against NFL averages based on several variables, Baltimore has finished in the Top 10 each year since 2012, with the No. 1 ranking in 2017 and 2021, a Top 6 finish in seven consecutive seasons (2012-18) and Top 3 finish in four consecutive seasons (2012-15).

Mentored by special teams coordinator Chris Horton and special teams coaches Randy Brown and T.J. Weist, as well as several other special teams gurus who've come through Baltimore, Justin Tucker and Sam Koch formed one of the best kicker-punter batteries in NFL history.

But now the Ravens are experiencing another of life's guarantees: change.

With the 130th pick in the 2022 NFL Draft, Baltimore selected Penn Stater Jordan Stout, a strong-legged punter with excellent hangtime and one of the most versatile kicking specialists in recent memory.

In mid-May, Sam Koch announced his retirement and joined the coaching staff as a special teams consultant, vacating the position he mastered and revolutionized over his 16-year career for the incumbent Stout.

Following an emotional retirement speech that captivated an audience of family, friends, former and current teammates and coaches, Ravens staff and media, Koch expressed his commitment to – as an ode to Koch and Tucker's famous mantra – "doing his (new) job."

"I really enjoy helping the younger generation improve and become the player that they want to be," Koch assured. "I'm just going to try to teach [Stout] everything I have and put everything I have into making him the best punter this league has seen."

Time will tell if Stout ever reaches those heights, but the rookie is surely in good hands. "Obviously, he's going to be coached on the details to the max, starting with Randy," special teams coordinator Chris Horton stated. "And then with the help of Sam, who just finished playing, really going over there to give him the in-game experience, those are the kinds of things that some of us can't do."

Even with a major shakeup to Baltimore's special teams unit this offseason, the team's standard is the standard, and there's no reason to expect anything but excellence again from the league's most reliable unit.

"I really enjoy helping the younger generation improve and become the player that they want to be. I'm just going to try to teach [Stout] everything I have and put everything I have into making him the best punter this league has seen."

– Sam Koch, Special Teams Consultant

GETTING TO KNOW THE 2022 DRAFT PICKS

"We added some very, very good football players at a lot of big needs across the board. We're excited about the future."

– Eric DeCosta, Executive Vice President & General Manager

FIELD YATES @FIELDYATES
Kyle Hamilton and Tyler Linderbaum. Clearly the two best players at their respective positions. Potentially dominant players for a prolonged period of time.

Ravens doing Ravens things.

PFF BAL RAVENS @PFF_RAVENS
The Ravens got two GENERATIONAL talents 😳

PETER SCHRAGER @PSCHRAGS
Oweh and Ojabo. "The Killer O's" -- @richeisen

DAN POMPEI @DANPOMPEI
Nobody makes better value picks than Eric DeCosta and the Ravens.

COLIN COWHERD @COLINCOWHERD
Ravens got CLEARLY the best safety & the best center w the 14th and 25th pick. That's a pretty good night.

CHRIS SIMMS @CSIMMSQB
Travis Jones, no way, Ravens get another [strong player] on the D-line. Jones was my DT No. 3 in this draft. Round 1 talent goes in Round 3. Ravens just continue to steal the biggest, baddest dudes on the planet.

BENJAMIN SOLAK @BENJAMINSOLAK
The Ravens, once again, are ahead of the curve. This time on the positional values of safeties. Marcus Williams and Kyle Hamilton acquired in the same offseason with big capital.

FIELD YATES @FIELDYATES
Of course the Ravens land David Ojabo. Baltimore just crushes the draft.

ALBERT BREER @ALBERTBREER
What the Ravens do better than anyone, in my opinion, and this was under Ozzie and is now under DeCosta—they let the draft come to them. They don't let plans laid out beforehand prevent them from doing the right thing. They just take the best guy.

Seen it over and over again.

MINA KIMES @MINAKIMES
GUYS THEYRE REALLY FREAKIN GOOD AT THIS

DAN ORLOVSKY @DANORLOVSKY7
Wow. The Ravens draft a very good football player. Again. Such a well-run organization.

DAMIEN WOODY @DAMIENWOODY

– Albert Breer, The MMQB

"If this draft class pans out the way I think it will, Eric DeCosta could have two of the best draft classes of the past 20 years since 2018 (the last being Lamar Jackson, Orlando Brown Jr., Mark Andrews, Hayden Hurst, Bradley Bozeman)."

DEFENSIVE FAST FACTS

- Under John Harbaugh (2008-21), the Ravens have posted a Top 5 scoring defense in seven of his 14 seasons.
- During Coach Harbaugh's 14 seasons in Baltimore, the Ravens have boasted 10 Top 10 defenses (yards allowed).
- In a 2020 win vs. Cin. (10/11), Baltimore had five different DBs record at least 1 sack, marking the first time in NFL history that feat has been accomplished.
- In 2018's Week 6 win at the Titans, Baltimore racked up a franchise-best 11 sacks, tying for the second most by a team in league history. They also stand as the most in an NFL game since 2012 (SD, 11).
- Since 2017, 34 shutouts have been pitched by defenses throughout the NFL. Of those, a league-high 4 (tied w/ New England) have come courtesy of the Ravens.

AN ENVIRONMENT FOR SUCCESS.

Located on the Chester River, Washington College's Semans-Griswold Environmental Hall meets the most rigorous green building standard, producing more energy than it uses.

Location is everything, and ours is ideal for the study of the environment. Washington College lies at the heart of the Chesapeake Bay region in Chestertown, Maryland, in a colonial port where American history is still unfolding, and on an intellectual terrain where top-notch faculty in the sciences, the arts, and the humanities empower students to become champions of our natural and cultural resources.

The Chesapeake: A Living Laboratory

Everything we do prepares our undergraduates — the next generation of environmental leaders — to help solve the most pressing environmental problems through innovative curriculum, real-world experiences, training in cutting-edge technologies, and new ways of thinking. Opportunities for research, field experiences, and exploration include:

- The Chesapeake Semester
- The 4,700-acre River and Field Campus
- Foreman's Branch Bird Observatory
- Semans-Griswold Environmental Hall
- Geographic Information Systems program
- Dual-degree program with Duke University's Nicholas School of the Environment

RAVENS WELCOME SASHI BROWN AS PRESIDENT

On April 1, 2022, longtime sports executive Sashi Brown became the Ravens' team president, succeeding Dick Cass, who retired after 18 years with the organization.

Brown, 46, assumes the responsibilities held by Cass, overseeing all business areas of the organization, including finances, budgeting, non-football personnel, corporate sales, operations, stadium activities, communications and business ventures.

"We're excited to attract an accomplished leader like Sashi," owner Steve Bisciotti stated.

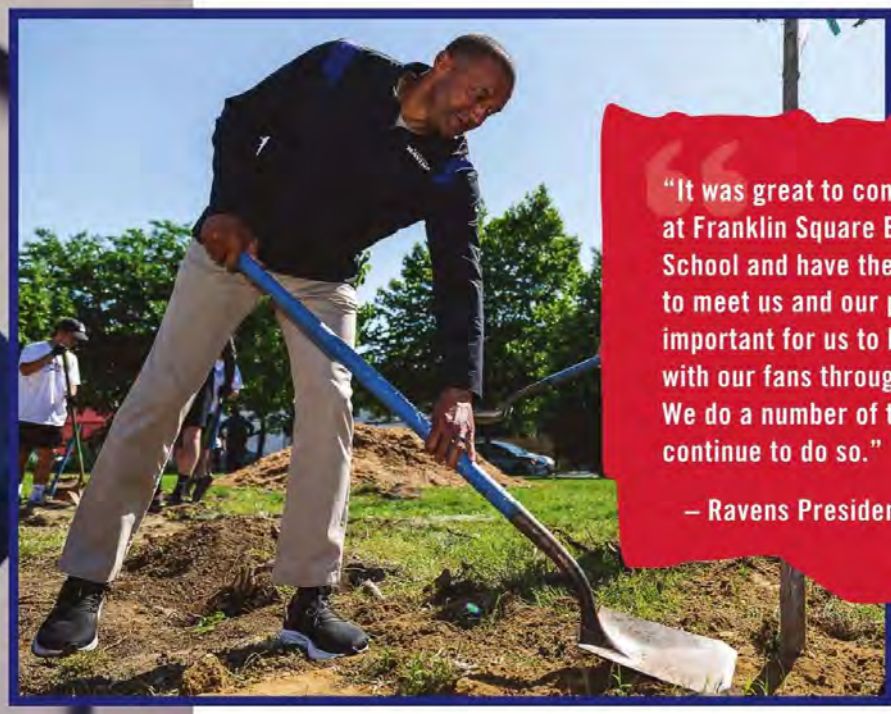
"He's very smart and has good judgement," added Cass about Brown. "He's thoughtful, and what you really notice are his people skills, poise and presence."

For the three years (2019-21) prior to his Baltimore arrival, Brown worked at Monumental Sports & Entertainment, last serving as President of Monumental Basketball (Wizards, Mystics and Go-Go) and as a special advisor to the CEO.

Brown also previously accrued 13 years of NFL experience, including five seasons (2013-17) with the Cleveland Browns, where he served two years (2016-17) as executive vice president of football operations. Prior to that, he spent eight years (2005-12) with the Jacksonville Jaguars, last serving as senior vice president and general counsel.

In 2015, Brown was named to the Sports Business Journal's "Forty Under 40" list.

He began his career as an attorney at the Washington, D.C.-based law firm WilmerHale.



"It was great to connect with the students at Franklin Square Elementary/Middle School and have their teachers be able to meet us and our players. It's really important for us to be in the community with our fans throughout the offseason. We do a number of these projects and will continue to do so."

– Ravens President Sashi Brown (6.6.22)

SOCIAL JUSTICE EFFORTS/OZZIE NEWSOME SCHOLARS

In the summer of 2021, the Stephen and Renee Bisciotti Foundation honored Ozzie Newsome by donating $4 Million to Maryland's four Historically Black Colleges and Universities to fund scholarships for Baltimore City Public School graduates. A gift of $1 million was presented to each of Maryland's four HBCUs: Bowie State University, Coppin State University, Morgan State University and the University of Maryland Eastern Shore. Every spring, each of the four HBCUs will select five City Schools' graduates as Ozzie Newsome Scholars for its incoming freshman class. In June of 2022, the Baltimore Ravens welcomed the inaugural class of the Ozzie Newsome Scholars to the Under Armour Performance Center as they were recognized for this distinguished scholarship. Ravens owner Steve Bisciotti, QB Lamar Jackson and executive vice president Ozzie Newsome were on hand to meet the scholars.

Last September, Calais Campbell joined Al Roker of NBC's the Today Show live from M&T Bank Stadium to announce the donation of 3,000 laptops and 12 months of free Internet services to the students of Digital Harbor High School in Baltimore and surrounding communities. Campbell and Roker were also joined by Baltimore Mayor Brandon Scott, Ravens cheerleaders and mascot Poe.

THE RAVENS FOUNDATION, INC. IS COMMITTED TO IMPROVING, ENCOURAGING AND ENABLING THE HEALTHY DEVELOPMENT OF YOUTH IN THE BALTIMORE AREA, AS WELL AS OTHER PARTS OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND.

Rashod Bateman

On June 6, 2022, the Baltimore Ravens hosted their annual organization-wide volunteer day to establish new educational spaces at Baltimore City's Franklin Square Elementary/Middle School. Fully funded by the Ravens Foundation, Inc., the $200,000 investment project featured multiple renovations with the goal to provide inspiring and engaging learning spaces in Baltimore City.

Nearly 200 volunteers, including 52 players and the entire 2022 rookie class, joined representatives from Heart of America as they flocked together to create educational spaces that are safe, innovative and vibrant learning environments.

Throughout the day, volunteers planted 30 trees, constructed an outdoor classroom, renovated the computer room with new mobile furniture, and painted the hallways while also adding graphics and murals throughout the school. Lastly, influenced by the needs outlined by Baltimore County Public School offices, volunteers assembled education packs including age-appropriate relevant books, school and art supplies, stem activity kits and personal protective equipment.

This year's school transformation continues the Ravens' long-standing commitment to make a difference in the Baltimore school system. "An investment in our schools is an investment in our children's future – and that of our community. We're honored to help bring these important upgrades to Franklin Square Elementary/Middle School, because every child deserves a safe, welcoming and engaging learning environment. This project will provide immediate and long-term educational opportunities for many children in Baltimore." - Sashi Brown, President of the Baltimore Ravens (below)

CAW TO ACTION

During the 2021 season, the Ravens invited fans and sponsors to join them in the team's "Caw to Action" efforts. Throughout the day, the Ravens planned over 60 events across the Baltimore metro area. Projects were separated into unique teams that ranged from planting and harvesting vegetables, installing outdoor classrooms and meditation gardens at local schools and packaging mental health kits for Baltimore city students. The events brought together nearly 19,000 volunteers culminating in 3.3 million volunteer minutes served.

RAVENS SUPPORT NFL'S CRUCIAL CATCH INITIATIVE

During the 2021 season, the Ravens and the American Cancer Society (ACS) continued to expand the reach of their efforts within the NFL's Crucial Catch initiative, which addresses early detection and risk reduction efforts for all types of cancers. Prior to the Ravens-Colts game at M&T Bank Stadium, 25 ticket holders who have fought, and in some cases, continue to fight a wide variety of cancers, were recognized prior to kickoff.

SALUTE TO SERVICE

THE RAVENS SAY THANK YOU TO VETERANS AND ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS THROUGH THE SALUTE TO SERVICE CAMPAIGN.

In association with the NFL's Salute to Service campaign, the Ravens honor veterans and active-duty military all year in many ways, including hosting military members at training camp practices, visiting veteran hospitals, hosting a youth football clinic for kids whose parents currently serve in the military and showing support through care packages, letters and daily communication. At each home game, the Ravens honor groups that include military representatives, first responders, veterans and/or wounded warriors through the CSX Seats for Service program. Above, in recognition of Memorial Day, the Ravens teamed up with Flags of Valor and Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors (TAPS) to recognize five families at the Under Armour Performance Center. Head coach John Harbaugh (above) was joined by Ravens players as each family created a personalized wooden American Flag honoring their fallen service member.

PLAY 60

In 2021, the Ravens hosted a Play 60 event alongside Special Olympics Maryland (SOMD) to kick off the year-round efforts of the NFL Play 60 campaign, which is designed to promote healthy and active lifestyles among today's youth. Nick Boyle (left) joined teammates and ran through football drills alongside 50 athletes from SOMD at Morgan State University. Additionally, the Ravens hosted school assemblies and through special partnerships with the American Dairy Association North East, Carroll County Project ACES (Active Children Excel in School) and Baltimore and Howard County Public School Systems, the team delivered the Play 60 message to more than 199,000 local youth.

HOLIDAY HAPPENINGS

Thanks to Ravens players and alumni, thousands of families receive support, including food and presents, during the holidays. The 2021 holiday giving began with the annual Helping Up Mission coat giveaway. Seven players, including Marlon Humphrey and Justin Tucker, distributed 500 coats and cold weather gear to the men of the Helping Up Mission treatment center. Giving continued later that month as more than 26 players, including Tyus Bowser, Daelin Hayes, Odafe Oweh, Marcus Peters, James Proche, Ronnie Stanley and Ar'Darius Washington, supported the Baltimore community through Thanksgiving food distributions and meal services.

In December, in lieu of the team's 16th Annual Holiday Helpers event, Calais Campbell treated students from Bridges Baltimore to a holiday gift distribution alongside fellow teammates. Students were provided with gifts for themselves and to share with family, in addition to group activities and a pizza party provided by Papa Johns. In addition, 12 players led their own/participated in shopping sprees for local underserved youth.

TEZSPIRE is an add-on maintenance treatment for people aged 12 and older with severe asthma.
TEZSPIRE is not a rescue medication.

TEZSPIRE works by reducing inflammation brought on by your body's overreaction to triggers, and can mean:

- Fewer asthma attacks
- Better breathing and improved lung function
- Improved asthma symptom control

Results may vary. TEZSPIRE is not a rescue medication. The mechanism of action is not fully understood.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT TEZSPIRE
TEZSPIRE.COM

Please see Brief Summary of full Prescribing Information, including Patient Information on adjacent page.

TEZSPIRE™ (tezepelumab-ekko) Subcutaneous Injection 210 mg

Please see Important Safety Information below.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

Do not use TEZSPIRE if you are allergic to tezepelumab-ekko or any of its ingredients.

Do not use to treat sudden breathing problems.

TEZSPIRE may cause serious side effects, including:

- severe allergic (hypersensitivity) reactions, such as rash or eye allergy. Call your healthcare provider or get emergency help right away if you have any of the following symptoms of an allergic reaction:
  - rash
  - breathing problems
  - hives
  - red, itchy, swollen, or inflamed eyes

Before using TEZSPIRE, tell your healthcare provider about all of your medical conditions, including if you:

- have ever had a severe allergic reaction.
- have a parasitic (helminth) infection.
- have recently received or are scheduled to receive any vaccinations. You should not receive a "live vaccine" if you are treated with TEZSPIRE.
- are pregnant or plan to become pregnant.
- are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. It is not known if TEZSPIRE passes into your breast milk. Talk to your healthcare provider about the best way to feed your baby if you use TEZSPIRE.
- are taking prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins, or herbal supplements.

Do not change or stop taking your other asthma medicines unless instructed to do so by your healthcare provider.

The most common side effects of TEZSPIRE include: Sore throat, joint and back pain. These are not all the possible side effects.

APPROVED USE

- TEZSPIRE is a prescription medicine used with other asthma medicines for the maintenance treatment of severe asthma in people 12 years of age and older whose asthma is not controlled with their current asthma medicine.
- TEZSPIRE helps prevent severe asthma attacks (exacerbations) and can improve your breathing.
- TEZSPIRE is not used to treat sudden breathing problems. Tell your healthcare provider if your asthma does not get better or if it gets worse after you start treatment with TEZSPIRE.
- It is not known if TEZSPIRE is safe and effective in children under 12 years of age.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.FDA.gov/medwatch or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT TEZSPIRE

What is TEZSPIRE?

TEZSPIRE is a prescription medicine used with other asthma medicines for the maintenance treatment of severe asthma in people 12 years of age and older whose asthma is not controlled with their current asthma medicine.

TEZSPIRE helps prevent severe asthma attacks (exacerbations) and can improve your breathing.

TEZSPIRE is not used to treat sudden breathing problems. Tell your healthcare provider if your asthma does not get better or if it gets worse after you start treatment with TEZSPIRE.

It is not known if TEZSPIRE is safe and effective in children under 12 years of age.

Do not receive TEZSPIRE if you:

- are allergic to tezepelumab or any of the ingredients in TEZSPIRE. See the end of this Patient Information leaflet for a complete list of ingredients in TEZSPIRE.

Before you receive TEZSPIRE, tell your healthcare provider about all of your medical conditions, including if you:

- have ever had a severe allergic reaction (hypersensitivity).
- have a parasitic (helminth) infection.
- have recently received or are scheduled to receive any live attenuated vaccinations. People who receive TEZSPIRE should not receive live attenuated vaccines.
- are pregnant, think you may be pregnant, or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if TEZSPIRE may harm your unborn baby.
- are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. It is not known if TEZSPIRE passes into your breast milk. Talk to your healthcare provider about the best way to feed your baby if you receive TEZSPIRE.

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements.

Do not change or stop your corticosteroid medicines or other asthma medicines unless your healthcare provider tells you to.

How will I receive TEZSPIRE?

- Your healthcare provider will give you TEZSPIRE in a healthcare setting.
- TEZSPIRE is injected under your skin (subcutaneously) 1 time every 4 weeks.
- If you miss an appointment, ask your healthcare provider when to schedule your next treatment.

What are the possible side effects of TEZSPIRE?

TEZSPIRE may cause serious side effects, including:

- severe allergic reactions. Call your healthcare provider or get emergency medical care if you get any of the following symptoms of allergic reaction:
  - rash
  - hives
  - breathing problems
  - red, itchy, swollen, or inflamed eyes

The most common side effects of TEZSPIRE include:

- sore throat (pharyngitis)
- joint pain (arthralgia)
- back pain

These are not all of the possible side effects of TEZSPIRE.

Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

General information about the safe and effective use of TEZSPIRE

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than those listed in a Patient Information leaflet. You can ask your pharmacist or healthcare provider for information about TEZSPIRE that is written for health professionals.

FOUNDED BY JAY GLAZER + NATE BOYER

BECOME A MEMBER OF MVP!

Merging Vets + Players empowers combat veterans and former professional athletes by connecting them after the uniform comes off; providing them with a new team to assist with transition, promote personal development, and show them they are never alone.

Combat Veterans AND Professional Athletes GROWING THROUGH Physical Fitness AND Peer-to-Peer Support

ABOUT MVP

Merging Vets and Players (MVP) is a free weekly program for combat veterans and former professional athletes who gather once a week to work physically and mentally as individuals and as a team. Sessions consist of a workout with modifications available and a post-workout chat called "The Huddle."

MVP is a community that empowers its members to lean on one another while navigating the labyrinth of transition once the uniform comes off after service or sport. In creating a new team, our members face the challenges head-on together rather than alone. By staying connected beyond the weekly sessions through various events, communication, and trusted resources, members experience an ecosystem of support.
